Dear Sir/Madam,

I Amit Khosla, am a servicemember in the armed forces of the United States and entered military service on July 10, 2013. I am aware that I have protections available to me under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA) during the period of military service, with certain protections available till after the end of military service. The protections include, but are not limited to, legal rights relating to the property securing my mortgage loan, including protection against a sale, foreclosure, seizure, eviction or unlawful detainer action related to the property listed above.

I voluntarily waive and give up the SCRA protections related to the property listed above, including any protections against a sale, foreclosure, seizure, eviction or unlawful detainer action, and right of redemption. I also voluntarily waive and give up the right to stay legal proceedings.

The start date for the military service was July 10, 2013 and this waiver is made after the start of the military service.
